

Dear Muskan,

Congratulations!

On behalf of all of us at Seneca, I'm delighted to notify you of your acceptance to Chemical laboratory technician.

View and confirm your offer

Visit Student Home to view your offer and confirm your Seneca program choice. You will need your Seneca login credentials to access Student Home and then use your student ID number { 164293219} to activate your account. Or visit Student Home – Quick Start for tips.

Please confirm your program choice by the October 15, 2021 deadline. After you confirm your program choice, an official offer package will be emailed to you. The documents in this offer package can be used to apply for your study and work permits.

Join the #SenecaProud community

We're excited to welcome you to our community of proud students and graduates. Whether you're focused on a career or further education, by coming to Seneca you will be challenged to be your best by our great professors and programs.

We're here to help

We're here to support every step of your journey. Our dedicated Seneca International team is available to answer any questions. You can email us at any time. We also have a website just for international students with information you need to ensure a successful start at Seneca.

Get excited – this video will show you why

Great things are happening at Seneca every day. We can't wait for you to be a part of them. We say our graduates bring greatness to the world ... and we know you will too.

We are working together with government and public health authorities to keep the Seneca community safe. Most of our courses are currently being delivered online, with some on-campus activities for programs that have required in-person components. Learn more.

We will re-open our campuses when it is safe to do so. Until then, we invite you to visit us virtually.
