Students who receive a visa and/or study permit along with a final letter of acceptance, must begin their studies at TRU in the semester written on their letter.

New students who can provide official documentation from IRCC (Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada) indicating that their visa and/or study permit application was denied, are eligible for a full refund of their deposit less a $200 administrative fee. Documentation must be issued by IRCC later than the current letter of acceptance from TRU.

Requests for refunds due to visa rejections must be submitted prior to the course change period deadline to avoid a deposit forfeit. Thompson Rivers University (TRU) reserves the right to contact IRCC to verify the status of a visa and/or study permit application and/or to verify the contents of a refusal letter.

To submit a refund request:

1. Complete the refund request form.
2. Submit your refund request form, along with IRCC documentation, to international admissions.
3. Wait for an email from PayMyTuition to confirm how you want your refund payment processed.

Refunds may take 4-6 weeks to be processed.

ADMISSION DEFERRALS

After receiving a letter of acceptance issued by TRU, all new international applicants are expected to begin their studies at TRU in the semester noted in their current letter of acceptance. Students who do not receive a study permit decision prior to the visa confirmation deadline are required to request a deferral.

Students that wish to defer their first semester of study to a future semester may do so within one year of your original admission (ie. a student accepted to the fall semester may defer until the next fall semester but not later). Students must request a deferral prior to the course change period deadline to avoid a deposit forfeit. After one calendar year, a student must reapply if they wish to commence studies at TRU.
