Dear LINDA ATAORA,

Thank you for your interest in studying in Canada. I have reviewed your study permit application and supporting documentation to assess whether you meet the requirements for a study permit (<https://www.canada.ca/en/immigration-refugees-citizenship/services/study-canada/study-permit/eligibility.html>). This includes assessing whether you are coming to Canada temporarily for the reason(s) you describe in your application. I have determined that your application does not meet the requirements of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act (IRPA) (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/I-2.5/index.html>) and Immigration and Refugee Protection Regulations (IRPR) (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/regulations/sor-2002-227/index.html>). I am refusing your application.

- I am not satisfied that you have truthfully answered all questions asked of you.
- Your current employment situation does not show that you are financially established in your country of residence.
- Your assets and financial situation are insufficient to support the stated purpose of travel for yourself (and any accompanying family member(s), if applicable).

To get help with understanding your temporary resident application refusal and what you can do next, visit: <https://www.cic.gc.ca/visit-visiter/en/refusal-visa-application>.

Next Steps:

- If you decide to apply again, know that:
 - your new application will be assessed on its own merits,
 - you must resubmit a new application and all relevant supporting documents and pay a new temporary resident application fee, and
 - your new application may be refused unless it is supported by new or different information that would satisfy the officer that you meet all application requirements.
